GEORGE H. AND MARY J. MILLIS
APPOINTED DANFORTH ASSOCIATES

MISSOULA--

Dr. George H. Millis, professor of education at the University of Montana, and his wife, Mary J. Millis, have been appointed Danforth Associates.

Gene L. Schwilck, president of the Danforth Foundation, says the program is unique in that associates work directly with students on a personal basis in an effort to improve student-faculty relations and to strengthen the teaching-learning process.

The foundation invites associates to conferences on various themes to carry out program objectives. In addition, associates are eligible to apply for grant funds up to $2,000 for special projects to enhance faculty-student relationships.
